Summary:

Media Artist Refik Anadol interprets our planet's 'body' through their work "MRI Of The Earth" in hopes of engaging the public in a discourse regarding the harm we are afflicting on it through climate change.

Taking 200 million images of Earth's landscapes, a GAN generates morphing visualisations that remind us of the Earth's natural beauty and hope for the future - a hope that this will not be our only way of seeing nature in the future.
